We're climbing up the tree, and Sophia found a spot in the tree branches. A little spot where she could sit in the tree branches. Then Beatrice carried Lillian on her back up the tree. Then Sophia climbed out of her spot. Then she found the treehouse so she climbed into it. Then they said, "We want to stay here overnight," so they stayed there all night. Then they said, "It feels very good up here. I love this place." So they decided to live in the treehouse. When winter came, they said, "Let's have a treasure hunt in the snow! We can hide the treasure where nobody will find it and then see if we can find it in the spring time."
